Dear Examinees,

Response to the Examinees Affected by COVID-19/Corona Virus

For the first call for applicants in 2023 regarding Integrated Graduate School of Medicine, Engineering, and Agricultural Sciences Doctoral Course (Engineering), University of Yamanashi, we will respond to the examinees affected by COVID-19/Corona Virus as follows.

The examinees who were affected by COVID-19/Corona Virus and are not diagnosed by the doctor to be recovered by the date of examination or the examinees who are classified to those who had close contact by the healthcare center and still under a health observation period shall be able to take an on-line oral examination during the period between July 16 (Sat) and July 19 (Tue) after making a schedule arrangement. However, it is limited to the examinees who can submit the medical certificate in electronic data such as PDF (the examinees affected by COVID-19/Corona Virus) or the examinees who requested to take an on-line examination in advance (the examinees who are classified to those who had close contact by the healthcare center and still under a health observation period) by 15 minutes before the appointed time for gathering on July 16(Sat). (For applicable examinees, please be sure to inform us by telephone and receive the instructions.)

In case of having a fever of 37.5°C or more on the date of examination, the examinee can take an online oral examination without coming to the university. Please call to the telephone number described below by 15 minutes before the appointed time for gathering.

In case of finding a fever in the examination room on the date of examination, the examination may be changed to the on-line oral examination in another room.
