Important Notice

Points to Note Regarding the Enforcement of the "Act on the Prevention of Child Sexual Abuse"

The "Act on the Prevention of Child Sexual Abuse"* was enacted in June 2024 and will come into effect on December 25, 2026. This law is intended to protect children from sexual violence and to safeguard their physical and mental wellbeing.

Specifically, students who are expected to participate in teaching practicums, internships, or volunteer activities involving contact with children may be required to submit a consent form, sworn statement or other documents confirming that they have no prior convictions for specified sexual offences in order to confirm their understanding of the purpose of the law. Please carefully review the notes set out below before deciding whether to proceed with your application.

《Admission Policy》

◇Philosophy, Objectives, Educational Goals and Admission Policies at the University of Yamanashi Graduate School

[Philosophy and Objectives]

We provide educational and research opportunities designed to educate and train exceptional researchers and professionals with highly specialized knowledge and skills capable of creatively advancing academic research from an international perspective, which can be used to find solutions to problems faced by modern society and that also serves as the basis for such applied studies.

[Educational Goals]

Under the concept of “Regional Core & Global Professionals,” the University of Yamanashi Graduate School provides students with a broad education and general competencies, as well as knowledge and skills in specialized fields to shape them as professionals with a rich sense of humanity and expertise that can succeed on the international stage.

The university has set out a “Diploma Policy,” “Curriculum Policy,” and “Admission Policy,” in order to enable the development of such professionals.

[Admission Policies]

The University of Yamanashi Graduate School actively seeks motivated individuals with the following abilities:

- Individuals who are intellectually curious and want to conduct their own research
- Individuals who want to acquire an even broader education and general competences, and acquire advanced specialized knowledge and practical skills.
- Individuals who possess logical intellect, a rich sense of humanity, and want to succeed as leaders in local and international society.
- Individuals who want to increase and deepen their knowledge and skills in their own professional experiences.

Admission Policies for Master's Courses in the Integrated Graduate School of Medicine, Engineering, and Agricultural Sciences

[Educational Goals]

We aim to train people who, as professional engineers and researchers, will contribute to society using their expertise, development capability, ability to identify and solve problems, and international communication skills.

[Required Competencies and Personal Qualities]

We seek individuals with basic academic skills in their field of specialization, who are motivated to seek further knowledge and pursue advanced research and applications, and who have a desire to give back to society.

Life and Environmental Sciences

[Educational Goals]

We aim to develop highly trained professionals with extensive expertise in “food and health” and “life and the environment” by providing opportunities for them to acquire a broad range of knowledge through an agricultural science-based education that integrates the humanities and sciences, as well as specialized courses, such as the “Bioscience Course,” “Food, Enology and Viticulture Course,” and “Local Environmental Management Course.”

[Required Competencies and Personal Qualities]

To achieve these educational objectives, we seek the following types of individuals.

- Applicants should be able to understand the issues of “food and health” and “life and the environment,” the most universal and critical issues for human beings, in their relation to social, economic and governmental systems.
- Applicants should possess the basic knowledge to understand and analyze using the knowledge of natural science and to find solutions through technological innovation and policies.
- Applicants should have an interest in a wide range of academic fields, such as life science, food production and processing, environment and energy, local economies, corporate management and administration, as well as basic academic skills in any of these areas.

Bioscience Course

[Educational Goals]

We aim to develop highly trained professionals capable of playing an active role in bio-industries related to food, pharmaceuticals, medicine and the environment by providing opportunities for them to acquire knowledge by exploring the biological functions of microorganisms, enzymes and cells in the life sciences, and bioengineering technologies to apply these functions to industry.

[Required Competencies and Personal Qualities]

To achieve these educational objectives, we seek the following types of individuals.

- Applicants should have basic academic skills and English proficiency equal to that of person who have completed specialized education in bioscience-related subjects for specialized fields of study in which the applicant has been examined in an entrance examination on biochemistry, organic chemistry, applied microbiology and developmental engineering, in order to understand the life activities in microbial cells, animal cells and individual animal life.
- Applicants should have an inquiring mind and the ability to think logically based on scientific knowledge.

[Basic Selection Policy for Applicants by Category]

In order to evaluate applicants to determine if they possess the capabilities specified in "Required Competencies and Personal Qualities" above, the selection process will be carried out as follows.

- (3) Please refer to the selection methods for each course for details on the use of dictionaries or reference books.
- (4) For information on allocation of marks, refer to page 8.

<Bioscience Course>

Successful applicants will be chosen based on an overall assessment including the results of a written examination, an oral examination, and a screening of their application documents. No dictionaries or reference books are allowed in the written or oral examinations.

(1) Written examination (specialized subjects)

Please select two of the following seven subjects when submitting the application : applied microbiology, biochemistry, organic chemistry, molecular biology/genetic engineering, development engineering, nutrition, exercise physiology • neuroscience.

(Note) For information about the content of questions for each subject, please refer to the "Scope of Questions for the Bioscience Course" on the university's website (<http://www.yamanashi.ac.jp/admission/45>).

If you select biochemistry or biochemical engineering, please bring a scientific calculator with you.

(2) Written examination (foreign language)

Examination subjects will be in English.

However, subjects for international student applicants shall be in either Japanese or English. Please select your preferred language when submitting the application.

Question contents are related to specialized subjects.

(3) Oral examination (15 minutes)

The applicant will be questioned about specialized subjects, etc.

(4) Screening of application documents

<Food, Enology and Viticulture Course>

Successful applicants will be chosen based on an overall assessment including the results of their oral examination and a screening of their application documents. No dictionaries or reference books are allowed in the written or oral examinations.

In this selection process, applicants who reside or stay abroad for an extended period may, in some cases, take the oral examination remotely prior to traveling to Japan (limited to applicants to the Food, Ecology and Viticulture Course and the Local Environmental Management Course). In principle, applicants are expected to be enrolled at a school with an international exchange agreement with the University of Yamanashi. However, individual circumstances may be taken into account irrespective of enrollment at a partner institution.

Applicants who want to take the oral examination remotely should notify their preferred academic advisor by Friday, May 29, 2026 (for First Call for Application applicants) or Friday, October 9, 2026 (for Second Call for Application applicants).

The remote oral examination will be conducted using a web conferencing system specified by the course (such as Zoom or Microsoft Teams). Please note that the University bears no responsibility whatsoever for any communication-related issues or other problems that may occur during the examination.

(1) Oral examination (Oral presentation: 8 minutes, interview: 7 minutes)

The applicant will be questioned about the content of the oral presentation based on his/her Statement of Purpose and Research Project Plan.

(Note) Please use software (Microsoft PowerPoint, etc.) for the oral presentation.

(Please bring Microsoft PowerPoint files on a USB memory stick or CD. Applicants who use other types of presentation software should bring a laptop computer capable of HDMI output.)

(2) Screening of application documents

<Local Environmental Management Course>

Successful applicants will be chosen based on an overall assessment including the results of their oral examination and a screening of their application documents. No dictionaries or reference books are allowed in the written or oral examinations.

In this selection process, applicants who reside or stay abroad for an extended period may, in some cases, take the oral examination remotely prior to traveling to Japan (limited to applicants to the Food, Ecology and Viticulture Course and the Local Environmental Management Course). In principle, applicants are expected to be enrolled at a school with an international exchange agreement with the University of Yamanashi. However, individual circumstances may be taken into account irrespective of enrollment at a partner institution.

Applicants who want to take the oral examination remotely should notify their preferred academic advisor by Friday, May 29, 2026 (for First Call for Application applicants) or Friday, October 9, 2026 (for Second Call for Application applicants).

The remote oral examination will be conducted using a web conferencing system specified by the course (such as Zoom or Microsoft Teams). Please note that the University bears no responsibility whatsoever for any communication-related issues or other problems that may occur during the examination.

(1) Oral examination (Oral presentation: 10 minutes, interview: 10 minutes)

The applicant will be questioned about the content of the oral presentation based on his/her Statement of Purpose and Research Project Plan.

(Note) Please use software (Microsoft PowerPoint, etc.) for the oral presentation.

(Please bring Microsoft PowerPoint files on a USB memory stick (Type-A) or CD. Applicants who use other types of presentation software should bring a laptop computer capable of HDMI output.)

4. Use of Generative AI in Admissions

The university advises students to exercise caution when using generative AI tools such as ChatGPT.

Generative AI does not always provide correct answers to user queries. Additionally, since generative AI generates text by learning from data available on the internet, treating the generated text as your own work poses risks of plagiarism and copyright infringement. Furthermore, information input into generative AI may be used for AI learning, potentially leading to unintended leaks of personal or research information.

In the context of admission selection, documents those applicants create and submit themselves (such as statements of purpose and research plans) are extremely important for assessing their suitability and capabilities for our university. Therefore, the use of text generated by generative AI is strictly prohibited. If such use is discovered, it will be considered an act of misconduct, and acceptance will be revoked.

When preparing application documents, please review our admission policy and ensure that the submitted work is the result of your own ideas and creation to avoid any suspicion of misconduct and to prevent any academic mismatch after enrollment.

5. Examination Admission Slip

Please print out the Examination Admission Slip from the online application site and bring it with you on the day of the examination.

Notification of Printing : Notification by e-mail within three days after the last day of the Application Period (except weekends and public holidays).

Printing period : From the date of receipt of the notification to March 31, 2027.

How to print : Online application site > My Page > Examination Admission Slip (A4 size blank paper, 100% magnification, full color).

- If you are unable to print out the Examination Admission Slip during the above printing period, please contact the Admission Division, Academic Affairs Support Department.
- The name registered on the online application site will be used for the Examination Admission Slip.
- If you lose your Examination Admission Slip or it becomes stained, please print it out again from the online application site.
- Do not write anything in the margins or on the back of the Examination Admission Slip.

6. Infectious Disease Control Measures for Entrance Examinations

If an applicant has contracted and not recovered from an infectious disease (COVID-19, influenza, measles, chicken pox, etc.) on the day of the entrance exam for the university for which a mandatory suspension period has been stipulated by the School Health and Safety Act, the applicant will not be permitted to take the examination due to the risk of infecting other examinees or test proctors.

Please note that the university does not offer make-up or re-examinations, special accommodations such as separate examination rooms, or refunds for of the examination fee for applicants who are unable to take the examination. Please stay healthy so that you are well-prepared on the day of the examination.

7. Preliminary Consultation for Applicants with Disabilities

If you require special accommodations for the examination due to illness, injury, or disability, please contact the Admissions Division, Academic Affairs Department by telephone or email before submitting your application by the application deadline below.

For consultation methods and other details, please refer to the university's website (<https://www.yamanashi.ac.jp/examination/3794>).

Application Deadline

First Call for Application	May 29 (Fri), 2026
Second Call for Application	October 29 (Fri), 2026

- In principle, please consult with the university by the application deadline.
- The advance consultation process is intended to ensure that accommodations can be coordinated smoothly through constructive dialogue, and does not limit the ability of applicants with disabilities to take the examination or engage in their studies.

- Please note that, depending on the request, the university may not always be able to provide specific accommodations even in cases where the applicant has consulted the university within the deadline.

- If a request is made after the deadline, the accommodations the university can offer for the examination will become increasingly limited, so please consult the university as soon as possible. The university's Student Support Center also provides assistance and coordination for students with disabilities, and accepts prior consultations from applicants who wish to receive academic accommodations after enrollment.

8. Announcement of Examination Results

Date and Time: First Call for Application July 24 (Fri), 2026 around 4:00 pm

Second Call for Application December 18 (Fri), 2026 around 4:00 pm

- The examinee numbers of successful applicants will be posted on the university's website (https://www.yamanashi.ac.jp/examination_list).
- The university will not accept inquiries by telephone or other means about the results of the examination.
- The university will send a notification of acceptance to successful applicants on the day that the results are announced. As a general rule, the name registered on the online application site will appear on the notification of acceptance.

9. Admission Period

- Applicants may select their preferred date of admission. When registering your application information online, please choose your preferred date of admission: October 2026 (second semester) or April 2026 (first semester) for first-call applicants, or April 2027 (first semester) or September 2027 (second semester) for second-call applicants.
- Please note that changes cannot be made to your selected date of admission once the application has been accepted.

10. Admission Procedures

(1) Admission procedure period

Admission Period	Admission Procedure Period
Admission in October 2026	September 11 (Fri), 2026
Admission in April 2027	March 8 (Mon) to March 15 (Mon), 2027
Admission in October 2027	September 10 (Fri), 2027

【Points to note】

- (a) Details on enrollment procedures will be sent to the email address registered on the online application site.
- (b) Applicants who fail to complete the admission procedures by the abovementioned deadline will be assumed to have decided against entering this university and your admission will be cancelled.

(2) Payment for admission

The admission fee is ¥282,000 (tentative).

- This is the estimated fee and is subject to change.
- Admission fees that have been paid will not be refunded for any reason.

11. Tuition Fees

¥267,900 per semester (¥535,800 annually)

- This is the estimated fee and is subject to change.
- In principle, tuition fees will be withdrawn from the student's account. Information about procedures will be made available later.

12. Other Expenses

Other fees such as for Personal Accident Insurance for Students Pursuing Education and Research are required.

13. Long-term Study System

This system is designed for students whose hours of study are restricted by employment or other reasons to systematically allow them to take and complete the course in a certain period (maximum of four years) beyond the standard course term (two years). The number of required credits is the same as those completed in the standard course term, which reduces the number of hours required annually.

For more details on this system, please contact the Educational Affairs Group (for graduate school), Faculty of Life and Environmental Sciences Support Division at 055-220-8807 (from abroad: +81-55-220-8807).

The deadline for application to this system is as follows:

- (1) Admission in April (first semester): Last day of February
- (2) Admission in October (second semester): Last day of August

*1 Students can also apply for this system after enrolling.

*2 The period of the extension is determined by the hours of study not yet completed.

14. Entrance Fee Waiver System for Successful Applicants with Outstanding Exam Scores

Entrance fees for the Master's Course in the Graduate School of Life and Environmental Sciences will be waived or halved for successful applicants with the top performing scores on the entrance examination.

15. Handling Personal Information

The university will handle personal information from applicants as follows based on the "Act on the Protection of Personal Information" and the "Regulations on the Protection of Personal Information of the University of Yamanashi University."

- (1) Personal information obtained during the selection process will be used for the following purposes: (a) selecting applicants (processing and selection of applications), (b) announcing successful applicants, (c) implementing admission procedures, (d) conducting statistical studies, (e) analyzing application trends and future admission methods, research and analysis on improving university education, (f) organizing education and events for successful applicants prior to admission, and (g) security export control (for international students only). When the results of this research and analysis are published, the data will be processed so that individuals cannot be identified.
- (2) Personal information of enrollees (including those who have completed enrollment procedures) obtained in applications will be used for the following: (a) Academic affairs (student registration, instruction and guidance, etc.), (b) student support (healthcare, employment support, tuition waivers, scholarship applications, etc.), and (c) collecting tuition.
- (3) Please note that in the execution of the above, some tasks may be outsourced to a contractor that has been contracted by the university to carry out these tasks (hereinafter referred to as "contractor"). In this case, the contractor may be provided with all or part of the personal information we have obtained to the extent that it is required to carry out the contracted work.
- (4) In order to protect personal data and private information, the personal information acquired in the process of selection, whether in the form of documents in which it is contained or in data itself, will be kept strictly confidential and will not be used for any purpose other than those described above. Personal information will not be disclosed to third parties, except as required by law.

16. Security Export Control

The University of Yamanashi has established "Security Export Control Regulations" in accordance with the "Foreign Exchange and Foreign Trade Act" and carries out strict screening when accepting international students. If an applicant falls under any of the restrictions described, they may not be able to receive the desired level of education or conduct research.

17. Other

- (1) Please enter an address, telephone number and email address in the contact information section on the online application site where you can reliably receive information and notifications from the university from the time you apply until the process is complete.

Please promptly notify the Admission Division, Academic Affairs Support Department if there are any changes to your contact information after you have submitted your application.

- (2) Applicants wishing to obtain a scholarship should direct inquiries to the Student Supporting Division, Academic Affairs Support Department (Tel: 055-220-8053, from abroad: +81-55-220-8053) for information after the examination result announcement.
